

Quick fix communication coaching

Do you ever find yourself in a situation where you have something important to communicate, you want to make sure you get it right and you don't know where to start? If this ever happens to you, help is available to you with Kandula's quick fix communication coaching.

This coaching is specifically geared for busy people who want some help with a specific communication.

Are you facing a challenge?

- A presentation to make
- A difficult message to communicate
- A communication that needs to be inspiring
- A change in role requiring a different style
- An interview or meeting where you have a lot at stake

Do you need guidance about:

- The words
- The structure of your communication
- Ways to make it inspiring
- Your style

How we do it

The quick fix coaching really is meant to be QUICK – just a few sessions at most to help you have the effect you are striving for with your next communication.

In some situations it will make sense for us to meet so you can be given feedback on your style. And other quick fixes may just involve telephone and email.

Whatever the situation we will create a coaching approach that fits.

The lasting difference

- Greater confidence with your next important communication
- Tools and tips to use time and time again
- Increased respect from those around you for your communication style

When you feel as though you have a mountain to climb and the stress is building about a communication you have to make, contact us at Kandula to learn more about our coaching
